DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and draging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

COL. MOSBY IN BOSTON.

We publish Col. John S. Mosby's speech in Boston, at the banquet in celebration of Grant's birthday. The Colonel was royally received in Boston, and he has had a fine time. He says that two men whom he captured during the war, and between whom he sat at the banquet, were so kind to him that he felt sorry he had ever captured them and almost wished they had captured him. He visited "Marshfield," the home of Daniel Webster, of whom he is a great admirer, and in a letter to a friend here telling of his emotions quoted Milton's words on Shakespeare's tomb.

"And so sepulchred in such pomp doth lie,
That Kings for such a tomb might wish to die."

He also went to Plymouth and got a piece of the immortal rock and saw Miles Standish's monument. Those who know him need not be told that Col. Mosby is not by practice or profession a subscriber to Puritan theology, but in common with all thinkers he knows they were a noble band and did their duty as they understood it. He called on Mrs. Webster at Harvard whose father, Major Forbes, he captured during the war. She is a granddaughter of Emmerson whose home, at Concord, Col. Mosby visited. There is no state in the union with such memories as Massachusetts, and by imagining yourself in his place, you can understand Col. Mosby's pleasure better than when described in words.—[Warrenton Virginian.

Ulysses S. Grant was honored by the Middlesex Club of Boston, on the anniversary of his birthday April 27. Between 300 and 400 members gathered in the large banquet hall of the Brunswick Hotel, and for several hours exchanged recollections of war time and of the great leader. A fine picture of Grant, given by him to the club, hung draped in stars and stripes.

Col. Wm. H. Dyer, presided. The guests were Gov. Guild, the Hon. James M. Beck, of New York, ex-assistant attorney-general of the United States; Col. John S. Mosby, of Virginia, and William H. Elroy, journalist, of New York. Col. Mosby was appropriately seated between two Massachusetts men whom he captured during the war, Frank P. Morse and Fred Broughton. Col. Mosby said:

I desire to express my thanks to this company for the kind sentiments that have been spoken and for the hostiable reception they have given me. I was in Boston 20 years ago; when I went home I reported that the Boston people were more like the Virginia people than any I had ever seen. I was perfectly sincere; of course I intended the comparison as a compliment to the Bostonians. I am here this evening as the guest of the Middlesex Club to pay my tribute of respect to the memory of Gen. Grant, and to testify that my affection for him has not changed. No man ever had a better friend than he was to me.

"The last time I saw him was at Hongkong. I was consul for the United States; he was a private citizen. No better evidence could have been given to the representatives of the nations that our country was one and indivisable. It was my peculiar fortune to be on intimate terms with the great commander of the army of Northern Virginia during the war, and with his great antagonist after the war.

"No soldier clung longer to the Southern Confederacy than I did; and I can apply to myself the words which the Roman poet put into the mouth of the champion of a lost cause: 'If Troy could have been saved by this right hand, even by the same it would have been saved.' But the southern people were not lost with their cause, for in their ashes lived their wonted fires. From the wreck and the ruin of war they have risen, and today there is a stronger sentiment of nationality among them than ever existed before the conflict of arms.

"The credit of this is largely due to Gen. Grant in keeping the faith that he pledged at Appomattox. He allowed no pomp of war to humiliate the vanquished; he did not compel them to go through the form of passing under the yoke, like the Roman legions in the Caudine Forks. His first order after the articles were signed was to issue rations to the starving confederates; his next was to silence a battery that was firing a salute. His great soul would not add one pang to defeat or join in a paean of triump on the field of victory.

"It is for this reason that if the news of Appomattox brought sorrow, the memory of it brings no sense of humiliation to southern hearts. In the last scene of the great tragedy the two great actors appear at their best. One rose to the summit of power; the other went to the shades of the academy—but not with the despair of Caius Marius, sitting among the ruin of Carthage.

"And lived and died—as none can live or die."

After the vociferous applause had died away, William H. Elroy brought the meeting to a close with stories and praise to the republicanism of the Middlesex Club.

Scandals Outcome of Suit.

Scandals involving several families in Richmond and Manchester are the outcome of a suit for divorce filed by Mrs. J. Sills Daniel, wife of the physician who recently acquired notoriety as the proprietor of the sanatarium at Seventh and Franklin streets, and who was convicted in the U. S. Court several months ago and fined $500 for sending matter of an immoral nature through the mails.

In her bill of complaint filed in the Chesterfield Circuit Court, Mrs. Daniels declares the doctor had been maintaining a malodorous establishment in Chesterfield county, where he purchased a suburban home some months ago. He is now planning to build a palatial colonial residence there. She represents him to be a man of large means and large income, and asks alimony commensurate with her husband's wealth. She charges him with gross immorality and with cruelty. The doctor's new home, she says, is a house of horrors.

Three corespondents are named by the plaintiff—two married women and a young girl the latter well connected in Chesterfield. One of the corespondents was a nurse in the maternity hospital conducted by Daniels, in Seventh street. She testified in his defense when he was on trial in the United States Circuit Court. According to the declaration of Mrs. Daniels, she lived in the doctor's Chesterfield home after he had moved from Richmond.

Another coresponcent is the wife of a traveling man. She was employed as a nurse by Doctor Daniels. Mrs. Daniels says in her declaration that the nurses were instructed by her husband to beat her if she offended them in any way while they were in his house. Mrs. Daniels charges her husband with gross improprieties, and several other women figure in the case as witnesses.

Depositions will be taken next Tuesday. An order has been entered in the Chesterfield Court compelling Daniels to pay his wife $50 a month pending the divorce proceedings. Mrs. Daniels was a Mrs. Cropsy, a widow, when she married Daniels. She has many relatives in Richmond. Her home is now in Petersburg.

Divorce for J. B. Duke.

Vice-Chancellor Pitney announced late yesterday in Newark, N. J., that he would recommend a decree of divorce in favor of James B. Duke, president of the American Tobacco Company. The announcement of the court followed what amounted to a complete surrender on the part of the defendant, Mrs. Lillian Nannette Duke, divorced wife of William McCready, and Frank T. Huntoon, major of the Old Guard and former proprietor of the Hoffman Club, in west Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

In announcing his decision to recommend a decree in favor of the petitioner in the suit, Vice-Chancellor Pitney was unrestrained in his criticism of the defendants. He said the telegrams and personals published in a Paris newspaper were conclusive proof of the relationship between the defendant and the co-respondent, and that the messages sent from Durham, N. C., after Mr. and Mrs. Duke's return from their wedding trip, were absolute evidence of a deplorable state of affairs when coming from a married woman.

After his decision the Court granted the application of Richard V. Lindabury, chief counsel for Mrs. Duke, for an extra allowance besides the ordinary taxed costs of the suit. Mr. Lindabury said that the expenses of the suit had been unusual, and that the minimum counsel fee ought to be $5,000, but the Court held that the sum granted to Mrs. Duke on the application for her allowance for alimony ought to be satisfactory, and fixed the sum at $3,000.

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure," Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price 50c.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1907.

THERE will be no let up in the tariff talk in the House until the session ends, unless the republican organization manages to find some way to choke off the democratic leaders. Mr. Williams, the democratic floor leader, will advocate the the Cullom-Madden resolution providing for free steel and building materials for San Francisco. This proposal has caused the standpatters more embarrassment than anything yet offered. They realize that the whole country will be given a practical demonstration of just how the steel, cement and lumber interests take money out of the home consumers' pockets and how the same staples are sold to foreign buyers at lower prices. Mr. Williams believes the resolution should be changed and a drawback proviso inserted. The people of San Francisco could pay the duties and then have them refunded by the government. "It is time some truths about the present workings of the tariff were put before the people," said Mr. Williams a few days ago. "The delusion that existing inequalities and injustices are accidents has lasted too long." All of the best known democratic speakers will deliver speeches on tariff before the session closes. They have started the campaign to be followed on the stump in the congressional districts this fall, when the tariff will be made one of the important issues.

THE legal right of banks to charge for the collection of out-of-town checks, says the New York Commercial, is about to be tested in the courts, upon the initiative of the directors of the Illinois Manfacturers' Association. This association has been greatly dissatisfied with the new rule of the banks imposing this check-collection fee and has been advised by counsel that the rule is illegal. The proceeding to test its legality is held by agreement with the Chicago Clearing House committee. Prior to January the banks made no charge for collecting out-of-town checks. The jump from this condition to one of arbitrary fixed fees in no wise conforming to the absolute or relative expense of collections so exasperated the association that the banks were forced to concede a reduction of one-third from the announced charge. The association, it is said, is willing to concede charges based on the cost of collection, but not the adopted schedule which, it is estimated, would increase the banks' revenues by fully $7,000,000 a year. Hence this suit is directly interesting to the commercial world generally.

A SERIOUS phase of the scandal growing out of the ejection and arrest of Mrs. Minor Morris at the White House last January was brought out a few days ago in the Senate when Mr. Tillman presented his resolution directing the committee of the District of Columbia to investigate the affair. After reciting that the arrest was attended with "indignity and cruelty," it provides that the committee shall "especially inquire" whether the superintendent of police of Washington and one of the chief witnesses against Mrs. Morris "have since received recognition by the appointment of near relatives to office." This latter feature is understood to refer to the appointment of sons of Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, and of Elmer E. Paine, the only newspaper man who testified in favor of Mr. Barnes, as cadets at West Point. The appointments, it is said, were made February 7. This is a decided reflection on the President who should court a full investigation of the Barnes matter.

REV. THOMAS SHERMAN, by reason of the order taking from him the U. S. military escort which should never have been given him, has abandoned his trip over the ground covered by his father, Gen. W. T. Sherman, 42 years ago. Father Sherman expresses regret that his mission should have been misunderstood and says he is keenly hurt by the criticisms of people and press. He declared at first that he would continue the trip alone, but finally decided to return with the military escort which had been withdrawn. His "march to the sea" was ill conceived and had he been a man of ordinary judgment and proper feeling he would never have started on such a trip.

ATTENTION is again called to the fact that those who wish to vote at the November election must pay their State capitation tax by tomorrow.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, May 3.

Senator Newlands called at the White House this morning to urge the President to advocate some plan for the immediate aid of the business interests of San Francisco. Mr. Newlands believes that one dollar spent now in helping rebuild the city will do more good than five, six months from today, and he asserts that there is ample precedent for the government to set aside a liberal sum for the reconstruction of the town, the money to be secured by mortgage or other adequate security. "If this government can enter into partnership with the St. Louis Exposition Company and spend several millions of dollars with the gate receipts as security, it certainly can lend San Francisco enough money upon much safer security for rebuilding purposes," said Senator Newlands.

Somewhat pessimistic advices as to the condition of destitute sufferers at San Francisco were received at the War Department today from Maj. Gen. Greely. His dispatch says: "Health, weather, order continue excellent. Water supply steadily increasing, business engements and building operations are steadily improving, likewise methods of local transportation. Number of destitutes being fed enormous, aggregating today (May 3) as just reported 191,637 in San Francisco. Apparently conservative estimates place destitute refugees at 40,000 in Oakland and Berkeley.

Mrs. Sophie Coleman, living at 907 3 street, northwest, was discovered dead in bed this morning at the above address, having committed suicide during the night by inhaling illuminating gas. Mrs. Coleman had been in ill health for the past year, and it is supposed that continued despondency prompted her to do the deed.

The President's message accompanying the Garfield report on the Standard Oil investigation, was well received by both republicans and democrats in the House. Democratic Floor Leader Williams, of Mississippi, said. "I think it is a very democratic message. It shows that the President, who is a wonder in listening and heeding the public voices, sees clearly the necessity of changing the republican front and of emphasizing the change."

A complete agreement on the court review feature of the railroad rate bill has been reached by the republican factions in the Senate, whose leaders coincide in the statement that it is entirely satisfactory to the President. The amendment will be offered by Senator Allison and confers jurisdiction on the circuit court in the district in which a railroad complainant has its principal offices to hear suits brought against the Interstate Commerce Commission, with regard to any of its orders or rulings. It is probable that there will be added a provision that no injunction shall be issued against the operation of the commission's orders, without five days notice and without the concurrence of two judges. The agreement will materially shorten the debate on the bill, and will cause the withdrawal of a number of amendments which have been offered. It is now expected that the final vote on the measure will be taken Wednesday or Thursday of next week, and that Congress will be ready to adjourn in the first week of June.

By a strict party vote, excepting Mr. Pearre, republican, Maryland, who voted with the democrats, the House committee on the judiciary today decided to close hearings on all the anti-injunction bills, and then begin consideration of the measures. The democratic proposition was to close the hearings on May 9, and proceed to an immediate vote.

Probably the biggest outdoor social event ever held in Washington will take place at John R. McLeans country home "Friendship" this afternoon. The public is invited at a small fee the entire receipts of which will go to the San Francisco sufferers.

The Senate today passed the bill recommending by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, authorizing an increase in the amount of gold bullion that may be kept in the Treasury reserve, from fifty to one hundred million dollars, with the proviso that the excess above fifty millions shall be coined, as soon as practicable.

Acting for the Society of the Colonial Dames of the State of Mississippi, Representative John Sharpe Williams of that State this morning at the Navy Department presented to the acting Secretary of the Navy for the battleship Mississippi a beautiful silver loving cup. As soon as the big battleship which will bear the name of the State of Mississippi is placed in commission by the Navy Department this cup will be turned over to her captain and will be placed in her magnificent saloon. In making the presentation Representative Williams made an elequent speech in which he reviewed the history of the name "Mississippi" as applied to ships of war.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, May 4.

SENATE.

Nearly every seat upon the floor was occupied today. The galleries were well filled. According to the previous agreement, amendments to the railway rate bill were to be taken up in the order in which they come in the bill and disposed of under a rule limiting remarks of each Senator to fifteen minutes. By a coincidence so striking as to create in the minds of some the impression of prearrangement, the President's message, transmitting the report of Commissioner of Corporations Garfield upon the violation of the anti-rebate law by the Standard Oil Company preceded the consideration of the first amendment, which was one by Mr. Lodge, making the provision of the bill applicable to all pipe lines.

At the conclusion of the reading of the message the document was ordered printed, and left upon the table upon motion of Mr. Foraker, who said that "the message seems to have covered almost every point involved in this whole controversy."

HOUSE.

The House, this morning, killed time for fifteen minutes, awaiting the arrival of the President's messenger with the message and report on the Standard Oil investigation. It was immediately laid before the House and the reading of the same was followed by members, who had printed copies before them, with the greatest interest.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 4.—A vigorous attempt was made at the opening and during the early trading in the stock market to reach stop orders and induce renewed speculative liquidation, but the bear efforts were offset by stubborn support, stocks offered for short account being taken by the strongest interests. After these few minutes a general upward movement started that increased the confidence of the bulls and created decided nervousness in the bear stocks.

The market took the President's oil message cheerfully. It followed precedent, rising on what is considered bad news. There is no doubt, however, that the rumblings in the market the past week, when large declines occurred all along the line in stocks, was directly due to the fact that the Garfield report would be strongly against the Standard Oil Company and the railroads of the country, Standard Oil people knew what the report would contain, as commissioner Garfield necessarily had to impart his discoveries to Standard Oil officials and counsel. The newspapers, too, had fairly accurate intimations of the drift of the report, so it was only natural, for the market to discount the news a few days ago.

A report in St. Louis is that he was heavily long of certain railroad stocks.

Mrs. Dennis Coughlan, who had reached the age of 106 years, is dead at her home, near Rockville, Ind. She was 15 years old at the time of the battle of Waterloo, an event of which she had a distinct repollection. She was born in county Cork, Ireland. She had been married to Dennis Coughlan, her second husband, who survives her, more than 50 years. Until within the last few months Mrs. Coughlan had done her own housework, providing for her husband and two sons. She retained her faculties in a remarkable way until quite recently.

The eighth annual conference of the Woman's Home Mission Board, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which had been in session in Asheville, N. C., since last Thursday week, came to a close Wednesday, choosing Houston, Texas, as its next meeting place. The reports of the treasurer and the committee on education were read, the latter showing that the board owns $100,800 worth of school property. The treasurer reported that there were $15,698.38 specially directed funds in the treasury, and $42,268 29 available for current expenses.

Mrs. Rosalie Moore, of 910 New York avenue northwest Washington, was assailed while in the downtown business district last night. Mrs. Moore says she retained her presence of mind, and after a sharp but desperate struggle, during which she was choked by the negro, she routed her assailant after felling him to the street, and thus saving her handbag, which the negro sought to steal. Pedestrians were hurrying to the aid of the plucky woman, when the negro sprang to his feet and darted down the street, pursued by a large crowd. He was fleet of foot, however, and managed to outdistance his pursuers.

Hospital Investigation.

The joint legislative committee resumed its investigation yesterday into charges of mismanagement at the Eastern State Hospital. Dr. J. M. Henderson, first assistant physician, denied emphatically the charge that woman patients had been ill-treated. He testified that they were treated just as humanely as circumstances would justify. In the course of his testimony it was brought out that there was no post-mortem examination of patients; they were simply reported as dead and then buried.

Almost the entire day was taken up with the testimony of Archer Brooks, steward, in regard to the condition of the supplies purchased for general use, and in relation to the management of the institution in general. Mr. Brooks testified that he had been steward for five years. He stated that Dr. Henderson had been brought before the board on various charges unknown to himself, but that he had been vindicated in every instance.

The investigation by the committee into the affairs of the hospital, is general in its scope. It was precipitated by the refusal of the legislature at its recent session to confirm the nomination of Eugene Clowes, an appointee of Gov. Montague, to be a member of the board of visitors to that institution.

It has been disclosed that much personal feeling exists between Clowes and Dr. Foster, the superintendent of the institution. Much of the testimony is of such a nature as to be unfit for publication.

Little Child Run Over.

Robert Henderson, twenty-one months of age, was run over by a wagon and injured probably fatally, yesterday afternoon near his home, 1207 New Jersey avenue southeast Washington. The little one was toddling across the street at the time in full view of his mother. The babe was taken to Providence Hospital, where, on account of injuries to his breast and abdomen, his life was despaired of early this morning. The driver of the wagon, Sylvester Brown, a negro, twenty years of age, was arrested. The child had been out walking with his mother, and after he had been up and down the street several times, he broke away from her clasp and started across the street. As no teams were in the vicinity, his mother watched his antics with pride. At every few steps he would turn, and, shaking his little fists, give a cry of delight at the freedom allowed him. When the baby was half way across the avenue, a wagon, driven by Brown, rounded the corner. Before the child could turn to the sidewalk he was struck and run over. The wheels passed over his chest and abdomen. He was picked up by his frantic mother and taken home. The child died today.

The King George Assault Case.

Gabriel Battalio was indicted in the King George Circuit Court yesterday evening for criminal assault upon Lena Rogers, the half-witted white girl of that county. The trial took place today immediately on the arrival of the prisoner from Fredericksburg, guarded by the military company of that city.

Judge Mason in his charge to the jury stated that at first he thought the calling out of the military was unnecessary, but on his arrival he found, in conference with the local authorities, that the conditions justified the action.

It is the impression that at the trial the courthouse will be cleared of all parties except the lawyers, witnesses, military escort and representatives of newspapers.

Greenless, Walter Hieston, all of Washington, and Jackson H. Ralston, of Hyattsville, Md.

Fire In Petersburg.

The Phoenix Milling Company's mill at Pittsburg, together with five large frame structures used as storage warehouses, were destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. In the mill was the valuable machinery of the company, and in the five storage warehouses were about 10,000 bags of manufactured and raw products, valued between $8,000 and $10,000, partly covered by insurance. The building were owned by the Virginia Passenger and Power company and were valued in the neighborhood of $1,500. This loss is partly covered by insurance. The electric light plant of the Passenger and Power Company was in close proximity to the fire, and but for the wind being from the southwest it in all probability would have been destroyed. The Phoenix Milling Company is composed of New Yorkers and the company was engaged in the grinding of peanut hulls and corn husks.

Today's Telegraphic News

The President and the Oil Trust.

Washington, May 4.—President Roosevelt today transmitted a report by James R. Garfield, Commissioner of the Bureau of Corporations in the Department of Commerce and Labor, on the subject of transportation and freight rates in connection with the oil industry. Among other things the President says:

"The report shows that the Standard Oil Company has benefited enormously up almost to the present moment by secret rates, many of these secret rates being clearly unlawful. This benefit amounts to at least three-quarters of a million a year. This three-quarters of a million represents the profit that the Standard Oil Company obtains at the expense of the railroads; but of course the ultimate result is that it obtains a much larger profit at the expense of the public. A very striking result of the investigation has been that shortly after the discovery of these secret rates by the Commissioner of Corporations, the major portion of them were promptly corrected by the railroads, so that most of them have now been done away with. This immediate correction, partial or complete, of the evil of the secret rates is of course on the one hand an acknowledgment that they were wrong, and yet were persevered in until exposed; and on the other hand a proof of the efficiency of the work that has been done by the Bureau of Corporations. The Department of Justice will take up the question of instituting prosecutions in at least certain of the cases. But it is most desirabe to enact into law the bill introduced by Senator Knox to correct the interpretation of the immunity provision rendered in Judge Humphrey's decision. * * * But in addition to these secret rates the Standard Oil profits immensely by open rates, which are so arranged as to give it an overwhelming advantage over its independent competitors. * * * It is unfortunately not true that the Standard Oil Company is the only great corporation which in the immediate past has benefited, and is at this moment benefiting, in wholly improper fashion by an elaborate series of rate discriminations, which permit it to profit both at the expense of its rivals and of the general public. * * * The government must interfere through its agents to deprive the railroad of the ability to make to the big corporations the concessions which otherwise it is powerless to refuse. * * * The government should have power by its agents to examine into the conduct of the railways—that is, the examiners under the direction of the Interstate Commerce Commission should be able to examine as thoroughly into the affairs of the railroad as bank examiners now examine into the affairs of banks."

In conclusion the President says: "Though not bearing upon the question of railroad rates, there are two measures, consideration of which is imperatively suggested by the submission of this report. The Standard Oil Company has, largely by unfair or unlawful methods, crushed out home competition. It is highly desirable that an element of competition should be introduced by the passage of some such law as that which has already passed the House, putting alcohol used in the arts and manufactures upon the free list. Furthermore, the time has come when no oil or coal lands held by the government, either upon the public domain proper or in territory owned by the Indian tribes, should be alienated. The fee to such lands should be kept in the United States government whether or not the profits arising from it are to be given to any Indian tribe, and the lands should be leased only on such terms and for such periods as will enable the government to keep entire control thereof."

New York, May 4.—When the President's message on the oil industry with the accompanying report of Mr. Garfield was received at the office of the Standard Oil Company, in New York, M. F. Elliott, general counsel of the company, was asked what reply he cared to make. He gave an unqualified denial of all the charges saying:

"It is difficult to comment hurriedly and with due restraint on the astonishing report of Mr. Garfield and the message of the President. We must, however, in justice to ourselves and our shareholders, immediately express our unbounded surprise over Mr. Garfield's report, on which, of course, the President's strictures are based, and our unqualified declarations that it is absolutely unfair and unjust toward us."

Preparing for the Douma.

St. Petersburg, May 4.—The government has drawn up the programme for the first sessions by the Douma, or national assembly, which begins on Thursday next. The main topics for discussion will be agrarian reforms, autonomy for Poland, and increased liberty for Jews. Of these three the first is the most important; it will include the introduction of a bill granting farming and grazing lands to the peasants. The government is resolved to take strong action if the Douma attempts to discuss the limitation of the autocratic power of the Czar. The announcement will be made that the Czar's autocracy is the chief of the empire's fundamental laws, and hence cannot be discussed. If the Douma disregards this and insists upon discussing the Czar's power, the government will dissolve the Douma with a display of force. The reactionaries believe themselves powerful enough under the leadership of General Trepoff, the Assistant Minister of the Interior and former Governor General of St. Petersburg, to cow the Douma and indications at the present time point to their opinion being correct.

Rioting in Brest.

Brest, France May 4.—Several collisions between rioters and the troops occurred here during the night. The rioters stoned the cavalry, which replied by charging the mob repeatedly. Ten arrests were made.

Paris, May 4.—A Russian nihilist committed suicide this morning at Jointville, in the immediate neighborhood of the Vincennes forest, where the bomb explosion, which killed Striga and wounded Sokoloff, Russian anarchists, occurred yesterday. The body has not yet been identified, but it is believed he was connected with the plot of the men involved in the explosion yesterday.

The police investigation of yesterday's explosion has disclosed the fact that the anarchist who was killed was a Polish Jew instead of a Russian, as was at first stated. The police doubt the accuracy of the man's name, which was reported as Striga. An analysis of the bomb, which did not explode, shows that it contains dynamite and nitroglycerine.

The Miners.

Scranton, Pa., May 4.—When the delegates to the anthracite miners convention, which is in session today, shall have delivered themselves of the opinions they may desire to express on the pending issue before the convention, John Mitchell, in a short speech, will indicate what action he believes the delegates should take regarding a strike. Those views, whether for a work or for resumption of work, no matter the conditions, will be incorporated in a resolution and passed by the delegates. While the delegates, with few exceptions, are strong for a strike, there is not one that does not say that it is for the "chief," as they call him, to decide. President Mitchell last night in a statement indicated strongly that a strike would come.

Information was forthcoming from an unquestioned source this morning that, though the sessions would be given over to general discussion of the scale committee report and much oratory on unessential things, several of the delegates have primed themselves to ask Mr. Mitchell about the allegations made by the anthracite operators that he is playing the soft coal field against the hard field. These charges have made some impression on many of the conservative miners and they want Mr. Mitchell to come out and show that the anthracite miners have not been made a shuttlecock in a game in which the bituminous men are to reap the advantages of the play. There is no suspicion of Mr. Mitchell that he would deliberately sandbag the anthracite men for the sake of the soft coal miners, but the situation this spring, the miners say, has become so involved in both fields that they want an explanation.

The convention sat in star chamber, today.

After a general discussion lasting nearly two hours, the convention adjourned to meet again at 1:30 o'clock, this afternoon. No action was taken.

A motion was made before the convention took a recess, that the scale committee be empowered to resume negotiations with the operators and accept their proposition for arbitration of the wage question if the operators will agree to permit President Roosevelt to fill the vacancies on the old anthracite commission, which will pass on the wage question. No vote had been taken on the motion before recess.

Shamokin, Pa., May 4.—An extra force of coal and iron policemen arrived in this region today from the Schuylkill section. They were posted at the Reading collieries hereabouts to be prepared for the expected coal strike.

Captain Van Schaick Married.

New York, May 4.—Captain William H. Van Schaick, commander of the ill-fated steamboat General Slocum, who was sentenced to serve ten years in Sing Sing prison, and who is now out on bail, pending an application for a new trial, was secretly married a few weeks after Judge Thomas of the United States Circuit Court had passed judgment upon him. The captain and his bride are now living on the Van Schaick farm, near New Amsterdam, N. Y. Even the closest friends of the captain of the Slocum were not aware until today, that while he was being tried as responsible for the loss of over a thousand lives, on June 15, 1904, by the steamboat off North Brother Island, he was engaged to marry a young woman who stood by him through all his troubles. The bride was Miss Grace Murray Pratt, of this city, who is said to be an exceedingly good looking woman, several years the junior of her husband. The captain was sentenced on January 27 last, and the marriage took place on February 19, in the rectory of St. Ann's Episcopal Church at Amsterdam, N. Y. An appeal will be made from the decision of Judge Thomas, within the next few weeks. Captain Van Schaick is now in his 65th year, and was made an invalid for life by the injuries he received in the burning of the Slocum.

Forged Bonds.

Cincinnati, O. May 4.—Excitement was created in local banking circles late yesterday and today when the rumor became current that bonds of Russell county, Virginia, had been forged and placed as security for loans in Cincinnati banks. It was said in some quarters that Russell county, Virginia, bonds, presumably genuine, to the amount of $13,000 had been placed here, and that the bonds in question were issued by the officials of that county. It was claimed that inquiries have been received here by Attorney Edward Ritchie, asking him if he would look up the matter of the bonds issued by Russell county, and learn for the clerk of Russell county, who evidently had heard in some way that bonds bearing a forged signature of his were on the market. Men who are in a position to know, say that bonds of Russell county to the extent of $17,000 were forged and of this $13,000 was placed with the Cincinnati banks as collateral security for a loan. Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were brought yesterday in the United States District Court against Arthur L. Rich, the missing broker.

The Turkish Situation.

London, May 4.—A news agency report says that Great Britain yesterday sent a note to Turkey in regard to the evacuation of Tabas and other disputed territory which is virtually an ultimatum. The note demands, as England's last word, the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Egyptian territory. The French and Russian Ambassadors are supporting Great Britain in the stand she has taken.

Premier Campbell Bannerman this afternoon sent an urgent summons to the members of the cabinet for an immediate meeting at the House of Commons to consider the Turkish situation.

London, May 4.—The Exchange Telegraph Company states that Great Britain's ultimatum too Turkey in regard to the withdrawal of Turkish troops from Egyptian territory expires in ten days.

Quiet at Mount Carmel.

Mount Carmel, Pa., May 4.—Peace yet continues here. Foreigners keep strictly away from the constabulary whenever the latter enter town. The foreign prisoners of the troopers at the latter's camp yet remain there and are terrified, thinking they are going to be shot.

Crucifixion Postponed.

Tangier, Morocco, May 4.—Mulai Hafid, Viceroy of Maarrakest has vetoed the crucifixion of Hadj Mohammed Mesfewi, the native cobbler who is held responsible for the murder of nearly two score women, until orders can be received from Fez. The crucifixion was fixed to take place today, but by the action of the viceroy it is postponed indefinitely and may never take place. More than thirty bodies of women were found buried under Mesfewi's cobbler shop, or in a yard rented by him, in the first investigation made by the authorities. Since he was condemned to die on the cross, additional bodies have been discovered. The people generally were infuriated by the disclosures made in regard to the wholesale murders attributed to Mesfewi and the discovery of additional bodies of his victims has roused them to fever heat. They are demanding that he shall either be burned or crucified. Crucifixion is the Moslem method of capital punishment, but it has never been carried out judicially within the memory of those living.

More Earthquakes.

San Francisco, May 4.—Two earthquake shocks of slight intensity, but sufficent to wake sleepers, were felt during the night, one at 3:30 and the other about 5:45. Recurrence of these shocks now causes little alarm and no cases of panic are reported. While nearly 300,000 persons dependent upon relief, with funds and supplies on hand for only ten days. San Francisco is facing a most serious problem. It is feared now an appeal for, and must be made to the nation at large. Staple foods particularly are needed. Tremendous quantities of clothing have been given away without system or check.

San Francisco, May 4.—Army officers here are wondering what the War Department would do in event the Chinese situation becomes acute again, as it was a few months ago. Returning officers from the Philippines say trouble is likely to break out at any moment. If it does, the War Department will be caught short on supplies. The earthquake and fire destroyed quartermaster's stores amounting to $2,991,472. These stores consisted of winter clothing and a few kahki suits. The War Department has planned an extensive campaign in China, in event of continued outbreaks and had rushed stores to San Francisco. Now, they must be duplicated. Considerable criticism is being heard about the War Department paying the Adams, the United States Express, and the Wells Fargo Express Companies in the aggregate $100,000 for the transportation of tents and bedding from Schuylkill Arsenal to San Francisco.

More Bombs.

Warsaw, May 4.—A bomb which was thrown at M. Bodzanoff, today, wounded two policemen. The elections held today throughout Russian, Poland, for members of the National Douma, resulted in the selection of nineteen Polish nationalists and two lithuanians.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Another sensation has developed in the divorce suit brought by August Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer at Pittsburg Clifford Hooe, formerly Hartje's negro coachman, made a sworn statement before leaving the State implicating himself and Mrs. Hartje, who is a hand some woman of thirty-two, and of a good family. He later denied making such a statement, but now denies the denial.

The inquest on the death of Mrs. Erich Muenter was opened in Boston this morning by District Attorney Sanderson. City solicitor Pevey, who is looking after the Muenter interests requested permission to be present, but his application was denied. The inquest is being conducted in private.

School Board.

At a meeting of the City School Board last night Capt. Bryant, the chairman, presided and the Superintendent and ten of the twelve members were present.

Mr. Stabler reported that last month on being informed that the wells at Seaton building had overflown he had had them cleaned out.

Several bills for supplies and repairs were ordered to be paid.

A communication from the Retail Merchants' Association asking that Washington and Lee schools be given one session on June 6th in order that the children of these schools might accompany their parents on an excursion to be given on that day was received and laid on the table.

The Superintendent reported that all the schools had been open during the month of April; one teacher was absent one afternoon, when his school was closed and one teacher had been absent one day, but that her school was kept open by a substitute. Miss Webster had written him about the middle of the month that she had married and had intimated that she would resign. Miss Emily May was put in charge of the school the following day as the teacher was not present and the substitutes had been informed of the vacancy but had notified him that they could not take charge of the school before the end of May. Miss May in the meantime had resigned the charge of the school and Mrs. Cora Webster Kelley had taught one day. He then had placed Mr Lewis Fawcett (a scholar in Washington school) in charge of the school, who was now managing it well, but would not accept the position of teacher unless he was paid $40 a month. Miss Mary F. Grigg had informed him that she would take charge of the school at once if her terms were complied with. He then read a letter from Miss Grigg to the Board applying for the position as teacher at a salary of $50 per month.

Applications for the position of teacher were also read from Miss Mary Glenn Austin, of Leesburg, and Miss Bessie Norman, of Middleburg, and were placed on file.

The resignation of Mrs. Cora Webster Keiley as a teacher in Washington school was read and accepted.

Miss Mary F. Grigg was then elected a teacher in Washington school at a salary of $50 per month.

Mr. Stabler asked to be relieved from the position of chairman of the committee on school-houses and furniture and his request was reluctantly complied with. Mr. Yates was then appointed in Mr. Stabler's place and Mr. Stabler was appointed in Mr. Yates's place on the committee on studies and grievances.

Kindergarten.

The Alexandria Free Kindergarten Association held its annual meeting at Lee Camp Hall last evening. Mr. Charles Weller, secretary of the Associated Charities in Washington, spoke most fluently on the educational value of the Kindergarten. Miss Holeman who conducts the "Neighborhood Kindergarten" told many touching incidents of the result of her work in the homes. Mrs Carter and Mrs. Hulfish kindly contributed musical selections which were most acceptable. Miss Bush was elected as a new member of the board of directors. The meeting adjourned at 9:45 with the regret that there were not more friends of the Free Kindergarten Association present.

A Complaint.

People who conduct business at and near the foot of Cameron street complain of the chronic condition of the sewer at that point. Stagnant and foul water was in the intersection this morning, the effluvium from which is disgusting if not dangerous. A number of steamboats now arrive and depart from the foot of Cameron street, and during the excursion season many persons will pass up and down that thoroughfare. It is hoped by all interested that the eyesore or menace to health will be removed.

Affairs at Fishtown.

No fish were at Fishtown at 9 o'clock this morning, nor were there any prospects of receipts. The operators at one of the lower shores made four hauls yesterday and landed only 225 herring. The season is virtually over, and a part from the quagmire of offal now festering in the sun at the wharf, there is but little to be seen at Fishtown to attract attention. Herring were quoted this morning $3 a 4 per thousand and shad a $25 a 50 per hundred.

Police Commissioners.

The meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners last night was devoid of special interest. Officers Arrington, Smith, Garvey and Ferguson were examined by the board. They were made to answer the same questions which had been propounded to other members of the force and their replies varied but little. These queries are in reference to the general working of the force, discipline, relations existing between the men, dereliction of duty, &c.

To be Demolished.

Mr. Julian D. Knight has received the contract for the demolition of the building situated between the old Mansion House and the Carlyle House, facing Lee street. The wall of this structure has been in a dangerous condition for some time. After the building has been removed preparations for the erection of a new structure on the site will follow.

Dedication of Building.

The new building of the McKinley Normal and Industrial School will be dedicated on the second Sunday in June. Thomas C. Jones will deliver the address. The building was to have been dedicated next Sunday, but the structure will not be completed by that time.

Miss May N. Dodson and Mr. George P. Perry both of Winchester, were married at the parsonage of the M. E. Church South, on Monday evening, by Rev. Charles D. Bulla.

Athletic Meet.

Entries for the interscholastic track and field meet of the Episcopal High School, near Alexandria, are now in, and the results show that practically every school of any standing in the athletic world of Virginia, Maryland or the District of Columbia is to be represented. The games will begin tomorrow, Saturday, at 1:30 p. m. There will be twenty-seven field and track events, including several relay races and the dual team race between Woodberry-Forrest and the Episcopal High School for the championship of the State of Virginia. There will also be a sharp contest for the E. H. S. loving cup.

River Improvements.

A pile-driving machine and a force of men are at work on the pier of Stephenson & Bro., the landing place of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company steamers, at the foot of 7th street southwest, Washington, strengthening the pier and putting it in thorough order for service during the busy season which is now about to open.

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company have Miller's dredging machine at work deepening the water in the north side of the new ferry line pier at the foot of M street southwest, Washington. This dock will be used as the berth for the new steamer Jamestown.

The pier being built on the river near Geisboro for the new steel plant is now having the caps and stringers placed in position and will be ready for decking in a few days. The pier will be completed about the middle or latter part of this month.

Gompers Makes Appeal.

President Gompers of the American Federation of labor yesterday made an appeal for Congressional action on the eight-hour bill. He talked to the House committee on labor.

Year after year, he said, the arguments and printed record are piled up. All that could possibly be said for and against the question had been said and repeated. The present Gardner bill was practically the same as the eight hour bill, which passed the House two Congresses ago. The laboring people of the country were earnest in their desire for the legislation, patience was exhausted, and it was earnestly hoped that the present session of Congress would not adjourn without action. "Some men have said we are indulging in threats because we have expressed our dissatisfaction regarding the affairs of labor," said Mr. Gompers. "For heaven's sake, when has it become a crime or an offence for an American citizen to express his preference for one Congressman over another? I imagine it is not so grave an offense for the workingman to exercise their sovereign political power, granted them with all other citizens, in the furtherance of their interests or of the principles in which they believe, or in the protection of the rights to which they are entitled."

Representative Haskins, of Vermont a member of the committee, interrupted to ask: "Would it not be better for the labor organizations of the country to quietly exercise their rights of suffrage as all other persons do, rather than to send out letters threatening members, who are acting under oath of office, in order to induce them to conform to their particular wishes in the enactment of certain legislation."

"I think the question is scarcely a fair one," replied Mr. Gompers. "It leaves the impression that the working people have done a thing which they had neither the lawful nor moral right to do. And I deny that the working people have done anything of the sort."

Mr. Gompers declared that he did not think Congress should adjourn without action.

Investigation at V. M. I.

The investigation at the Virginia Military Institute by the legislative committee continues. The morning and afternoon sessions yesterday were spent in taking the evidence of cadets, not alone of the third class, but of the various classes. The consensus of opinion was that during the early months of the present session, especially previous to Christmas, food of an inferior quality was often furnished. Special emphasis was put on the poor meat—poor in quality and poor in preparation and service. Since the employment of a steward the first of the year the conditions have greatly improved, say the young men.

Of the 25 cadets examined most of them mentioned meat as the source of great dissatisfaction. Some of them claimed that it was cooked too soon after being killed, one of the needs being a refrigerator of sufficient capacity to keep the meat until it "ripens," so to speak. Also they objected to the sour milk, poor pastry, bad bread, absence of corn bread sour apple pies, etc. Nearly all admitted that the conditions at present are greatly improved.

No little merriment to the committee and some times consternation to the cadets was caused when the question was often put by the examiners: "Do you think the condition of the cadets would be improved by the inauguration of morning chapel service?" The invariable answer was "I do not."

Col. H. C. Ford, E. W. Nichols, Hunter Pendleton and Francis Mallory, members of the academic faculty, were before the committee last night from 9 to 10:30 o'clock. They testified as to the entire harmony and cordiality between the superintendent, General Shipp, and the faculty. As an instance of this feeling, when there was a rumor that General Shipp contemplated resigning at the end of the present session, the academic faculty sent a paper to the board of visitors with every member's signature expressing their utmost confidence in the superintendent and requesting that his resignation be not accepted. General Shipp has not sent his resignation to the board of visitors.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by Gibson and Timberman and W. F. Creighton and Company.

Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica salve," says A. C. Stickles, of Miletus W Va., "Persistent use of the Salve completely cured it." Cures Cuts, Burns and Injuries. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' druggists.

The Methodists

The fifteenth quadrennial meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South began at Birmingham, Ala., yesterday, with about 200 delegates and 300 visitors, church officers and others present. The roll-call revealed the presence of nine active bishops. The conference was called to order by Bishop A. W. Wilson, of Baltimore, the senior bishop.

The roll-call showed Bishops Fitzgerald and Granberry to be the only absentees. Dr. J. J. Tigert, of Nashville, secretary of the General Conference, was unanimously re-elected.

The address of the bishops was read by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of Mississippi.

In the address the bishop, among other things, said:

"The increase in membership during the last four years was 109,427, against 38,085 during the preceding four years. We have now 1,614,648 members, 1,039,785 Sunday school scholars and 120,487 Epworth League members. The receipts of our board for foreign missions for this quadrennium were $1,659,941, an increase over the preceding four years of $645,673. The collections for church extension were $372,649, an increase of $112,833 over the quadrennium ended in 1902. During the last year the Women's Foreign Missionary Society received $155,909 and the Women's Home Missionary Society $101,728. If these amounts be added to the receipts by the general and annual conference boards, we have a sum total for home and foreign missions during the year now closing of $955,779." The address laments "our decreasing supply of ministers." In seeking to explain the cause of this situation, the bishops says it is doubtless due to "the decline in the spiritual tone of our family life."

Pharaoh's Heart.

A chemical analysis made by Profs. Lortet, Hugouenq and Renaut at the instance of the directors of the Louvre Museum, in Paris, which recently acquired four ancient blue enamel vases hermetically sealed said to contain the remains of the Egyptian King Rameses II., has led to the discovery that one of the vases contains the real heart of that Egytian sovereign—the Pharaoh of the persecution of the Jews. In the other three vases were found bandages containing filaments supposed to be the remains of the viscera of the dead manarch, but the fourth contained a bony oblong object which a chemical examination made out as the heart of the ancient Egyptian King. After over 3,000 years it is only natural that the organ should have become ossified, according to the professors. It is now in the shape of a medallion five inches by three in size, and pieces detached from it with a razor showed that it contained the same fibrous substance that composes the human heart. The King's tongue, somewhat similar in composition, is still to be observed in the mummy preserved in the Egyptian Museum at Cairo, so no doubt can be entertained as to the identity of the organ just discovered. Rameses II. died B. C. 1258.

Runaway Auto.

Matinee crowds that filled both sides of Forty-second street, near Broadway, New York, Wednesday afternoon, were greatly excited by a runaway auto belonging to Alfred Shaw, the theatrical manager. Mrs. Shaw and her mother, who were in the vehicle, had a narrow escape. The chauffeur had just left the two women in the car at the curb while he went into Hammerstein's Victoria Theater to obtain tickets for two seats, when the machine started off. Mrs. Shaw became frightened, and, as she leaped from the tonneau, was caught by Sergeant Altenbach, who was on his way to police headquarters. Then the sergeant and Patrolman Shoemaker scrambled into the car. They were about to jump with Mrs. Shaw's mother when a crowd of men, pursuing the runaway machine, pressed so closely around it that they were able to pass the woman out. The car finally crashed into a truck, as the crowds wondered what would happen next.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackets, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copious y from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Three Elephants Died at Sea.

Fear of a terrible punishment because they covered a sacred white elephant with blue paint has stirred the 53 Lascars in the crew of the steamer Barenfels, which arrived in New York Tuesday from Calcutta. The animal that was the victim of a prank died at sea, as did the other two elephants aboard, it was exposure to cold weather that killed them. When the man in charge of the elephants found the sacred beast outrageously painted he drove the Lascars away and got soapsuds to wash the paint off. Two days later Alice died. Bill followed the next day. Then the Lascars went almost insane with sorrow, and their prayers were loud and fervent.

The Barenfels brought 500 snakes. One of them, a python, of course, got loose, and coiled around a sailor, and the rest of the crew had an awful time killing the python. The sailor had his ribs crushed and was put ashore at Port Said.

For a Weak Digestion.

No medicine can replace food but Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will help you to digest your food. It is not the quantity of food taken that gives strength and vigor to the system, but the amount digested and assimilated. If troubled with a weak digestion, don't fail to give these Tablets a trial. Thousands have been benefitted by their use. They only cost a quarter. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F Creighton & Co.
